The other reviews are right on! The books are great - fast paced and interesting. My daughter and I both enjoyed them. Since the books are for an older age, I read them before my daughter. The books are not scary and should be read by any child, especially those in Christian homes! We never quite know the extent of our children's faith, these books may help them to think more themselves. I have read both the adult and kid Left Behind series and recommend them! The kids books are almost better than the adult ones!

This series is great for all ages! I have been reading these and the older "Left Behind"s. I think it's really interesting how the older books and the younger ones correlate in the events that take place. I encourage you, if you are old enough, to read both series of books. When you do it covers both a kid's perspective and an adult's perspective on the Rapture and the Tribulation. I look forward to more books from these authors.

I thoroughly enjoyed the Left Behind series of books about the kids. The book starts off with four regular families living everyday lives. Some of them are very Godly people and some of them are not. The four children left behind were all shocked to find out that their families were gone. The rapture had come, and they were left behind. The book tells about the life after the rapture. If you are on earth, it is like you are in hell. The children realize they have to get in right with God, start living a Godly life and try their best to be like they should, for when God comes back, they want to go with him. If anyone does not know about God and is not aware of the choice you have to make as an individual in your lifetime, these books will really make you think. The thought of being left behind horrifies me. You do not know what your future holds, or if you will ever get another chance. As the four children's eyes were being opened wide, they realize what they have missed and what they were going to have to do. They have to do everything it takes to try again, this time better though. As the children learn the truth and search desperately for answers, they realize the after affects of the happening and realize what that they HAVE to do better and study the word of Jesus Christ and get closer to God day by day all day everyday. I recommend this series of books to everyone, everywhere. It really opens your eyes and makes you think. It in a way scares you and makes you just want to be closer to God and be in the word. Because of the descriptions and happenings in the book, they just seem so real and just true that it scares you to just not want to be with family and friends forever and never alone. Everyone needs to read these books and continue on by reading the words of Jesus Christ.

This series is a great! From the point of view of kids who've lost their families, it shows the possible problems of the Tribulation while trying to get on with their life. I have read these and passed them on to my friends who have really enjoyed them, too. I don't have time to read my mom's big books but we discuss the differences of the two sets. ~ Rahne Griggs

These are great books. I am thirteen years old and I've read #1- #8 and am waiting for book #9. I read about one a day. They were so good I just flew through them. They really help you understand the end of the world from a christian perspective and refer to the bible and state some verses in it. I really respect the characters in the stories all though they are not real. They represent brave christians who have accepted christ and changed. They also help display how you need to talk out about God. These books really deserve 5 stars and I encourage you to read them. I know these books will touch you as they touched me.

The Left Behind series is great for me considering I'm a kid I really don't know if adults would like it or not, but if you are an adult reading this I'd recommend Left Behind the original series. I thought this book was great because while its action packed it also teaches the gospel to the reader. This book also keeps your interest, so you could read it in one night, considering that I read the books separately. I'd strongly suggest reading this book if you like mysterious and exciting books.

First, let me say that I am adult with 3 children of my own and I like young adult type books in general. These books are very easy to read. They are the type of book that you don't want to put down. The storyline moves pretty quickly keeping you constantly engaged and wanting to know what is going to happen next. The books are not watered down on its stance about Christianity and are based on the book of Revelation. They are a bit preachy at times. They consistently uses scriptures as we see the children left behind having to rely on and grow in their faith. They consistently references scriptures in the book of Revelations as events predicted in Revelations start to unfold. As an adult, I welcome the reminder that I need to live with more faith and rely on God. The children go through many difficult situations, and we can see how faith in action works. The book of Revelations is a confusing book, so I also enjoy this vivid interpretation, and if the books get too preachy, well it's easy enough to skip over. The topic in this series is serious, controversial and scary. Perhaps better suited for a mature child.

I bought this for my 11 year old grandson. I think he is a little young for the story. Some of the content makes me uncomfortable for a child his age. I think I would have waited until he was a little older. But overall the books are an excellent read, and hopefully will make our younger generation think about their lives here and in eternity.
